

Apprenticeship Network Provider (ANP)

What is an Apprenticeship Network Provider?

Contracted by the Australian Government, the ANP provides a one-stop shop for employers and people interested in commencing an Australian Apprenticeship through:

- Pre-commencement services including screening, testing and job-matching to get the right Australian Apprentice in the right Australian Apprenticeship with the right employer.
- Administrative support, payment processing and regular contact with employers and Australian Apprentices.
- Targeted services for employers and individuals assessed as needing additional support to complete the Australian Apprenticeship.
- Targeted in-training support services, including mentoring, to assist Australian Apprentices and employers who are experiencing issues or difficulties and may be at-risk of not completing the Australian Apprenticeship arrangement.

The Apprenticeship Network Provider can also provide assistance to individuals who may be unsuited to an apprenticeship to identify alternative training pathways.
